Reflections from Father Daryl

Faith Must be Lived

A rabbi and a soap maker went for a walk together. The soap maker said, "What good is religion? Look at all the trouble and misery of the world after thousands of years of teaching about goodness, truth, and peace – after all the prayers, sermons and teachings. If religion is good and true, why should this be?"

The rabbi said nothing. They continued walking until he noticed a child playing in the gutter. Then the rabbi said, "Look at that child. You say that soap makes people clean, but see the dirt on that youngster. Of what good is soap? With all the soap in the world, the child is still filthy. I wonder how effective soap is after all."

The soap maker protested and said, "But, Rabbi, soap can't do any good unless it is used."

"Exactly," replied the rabbi. "So it is with Judaism or any other religion. It is ineffective unless it is applied and used." (Taken from "Rabbinic Wisdom and Jewish Values by William Silverman)

Today, we celebrate the Baptism of the Lord. Jesus, the messiah, the son of God was free of all sin, including original sin through his divinity. He was in no need of baptism. Yet, despite John the Baptist's protest, Jesus was baptized. By his baptism, Jesus made the waters of baptism holy for our sake, that through our baptism, we might be freed from original sin and become members of God's family.

Our baptism begins our journey of faith. As members of God's family, we not only share in the fullness of God's love and grace, but are also sent forth into the world to make known the good news of the Gospel. While we can continue to live the sacramental life of the Church and benefit from God's goodness for ourselves, our faith only becomes fully effective in the world when we apply the love and grace God has given us in our daily life. If we keep what we have received from the Lord to ourselves, it will become stagnate and useless. When we seek to share our faith with one another, it becomes fruitful for the kingdom of God and will give us the true joy that Christ seeks to share with us.

As we enter into the ordinary time of the year today, let us make a firm resolve to use what we have received from our Lord to build up his kingdom here on earth as we seek to love one another as Christ has loved us.
