Reflections from Father Daryl

Where Are You Going?

While on vacation, I drove to the various destinations to which I traveled. While driving along, I began to reflect on all the other traffic that was on the road. The question that entered my mind was "Where are they all going?" I knew where I was headed and simply followed the directions given to me according to the route on google maps to get to my destination. I reflected on several things as I traveled along and wondered about all the others who were on the roads.

Where was everyone going? As I looked at all the other traffic, it was obvious where some were traveling. Someone pulling a boat or a camper was surely on vacation or returning home from vacation. The many trucks on the road were carrying goods from factory to store that would eventually end up in someone's home. I imagine there were people on the road on the way to visit family and friends, others traveling for work and there were those who may well have been on the way to a wedding or maybe even a funeral of a loved one. We all had our different destinations, but we were all on the same road.

Along my travels, I drove along major highways with four or more lanes, two lane roads with passing lanes and even side roads and back roads. The major roads allow one to travel at the highest speeds in order to get to the destination as quickly as possible. A two lane will slow one down a little bit due to other traffic not traveling the same speed, not allowing one to get past them. The side roads and back roads, while having less traffic, slows one down even more as the speed limits are much slower. Still, one always reached the destination.

No matter which roads I traveled, there was inevitable the wonderful orange cones marking the road construction along the way. With so many vehicles traveling, the roads wear out and work must be done to make the necessary repairs. And some construction was necessary to increase the flow of the increased traffic along the way.

All of this is a reminder that we are on a journey with a final destination in mind. For us, our destination is eternal life. Along our journey, we have our work, our leisure, our family celebrations, and our gatherings to mourn the loss of loved ones. These will all be a part of our journey towards everlasting life. We will travel many different roads. Some will allow us to speed toward our journey and others will slow us down and give us the opportunity to enjoy the journey. And of course, we will encounter many difficulties and struggles that may slow us down, but will ultimately provide the repairs necessary to continue on the journey.

For our journey toward eternal life we have our faithful navigator. Not a voice coming from google maps, but the voice of our Lord Jesus giving us the various turns and directions to take us to our final destination. As we travel on our journey, we must continually ask ourselves: "Are we listening to the voice of our Lord to guide us to where we wish to go?" He will lead us to heaven if we but listen to his voice.
