Reflections from Fr. Daryl

Is it hot enough for you? With the temperatures climbing into the 100's, I have been asked this very question several times already. Just a few months ago the question was - Is it cold enough? The weather is a topic that is the most talked about in our daily conversations. On any given day, there will always be some aspect of the weather that will be discussed. It can be too hot, too cold, full sunshine or cloudy. The weather could be wonderful or it could be a stay inside day.

In reflection our thought and reactions to the day's weather can be a reflection of our desires in our lives as well. We will be pleased when the weather is exactly what we are looking for. In our daily lives, we often want all things to go as we see fit. As long as everything around us whether in work, family or play goes according to our plan we find happiness. In turn, we will seek to share our happiness with those around us.

On the other hand, when the weather does not cooperate with our plans, we are not the same happy person. We can quickly get frustrated with what we have been given. Such frustrations will also affect how we interact with those around us. I am reminded of the phrase "God makes waste the best made plans of man." We can plan out our day to the last minute and if something gets out of place it leads to frustration. God is inviting us to recognize that frustrations and the disruptions to our plans will always be part of our day. The question is how we react in these circumstances.

Here in the heartland, we are blessed to have a full variety of all four seasons. We have the heat of the summer, the cold of the winter as well as the warmth of the spring as well as the cool of the fall. We get the strong thunderstorms as well as the heavy snow fall. Each of us has our favorite time of year. I enjoy the fact that we do get all four seasons. In any season, I know there is some activity that can be enjoyed even when it is not suitable to be outdoors.

In our lives we will not always get what is most suitable to us. But we can be assured the Lord will bring us blessings no matter what is taking place around us. What we can do is ask the Lord to help us hang in there, for this too shall pass.

It's a great volunteer opportunity.

Retreat master Fr. John Lanzrath will give a series of short conferences, each less than 30 minutes in length. Retreatants will then be free to pray and reflect in silence upon the themes offered. Those who come are asked to leave cell phones, iPods and any other electronic devices at home. The silence of the retreat will end during the noon meal on Sunday that follows Mass. To register call the Spiritual Life Center at 744.0167 or visit the website, www.slcwichita.org to register. Registration is $145 single and $120 double until August 7.

STEWARDSHIP

In his first letter to the Corinthians, Paul says, "God does not call the qualified, He qualifies the called." In his letter to the Romans, he makes a similar comment about being justified and glorified. Just look at what God did for King David, and then for King Solomon! Neither man was prepared for the task at hand, but both men turned themselves over to God and allowed Him to prepare them to do His work. King Solomon was a selfless steward who wanted only to do what was just, which pleased God. God is pleased when we want to use our lives for the betterment of others; He is pleased when we see the great value in love and choose to use all of our resources in spreading His love.
